

PROFILE - INDEPENDENT MEMBER OF DISPUTE RESOLUTION COMMITTEE

Criteria for Independent Membership of the Dispute Resolution Committee

An Independent Member of the Dispute Resolution Committee (DRC) is a member who can display the highest standard of professional integrity and objectivity in relation to the compliance function of Scheme Management.

An independent member should be a professional of good repute, with appropriate skills, who preferably has a reasonable knowledge of the payments services sector but who is not employed or is not otherwise affiliated with a Participant or its PSP communities, service providers or a payment services user group or user association. It is to be understood that an independent member cannot be allowed to work as a consultant/ contractor for a Participant or its PSP communities, service providers or a payment services user group or user association, during the course of his or her independent membership.

A prospective independent member must possess appropriate academic and vocational qualifications for the position together with relevant work experience and a proven track record in a profession. In addition, members must be fluent in English, with – in particular – the capability to understand complex documents and the ability to express views during meetings.

It is envisaged that an independent member shall provide expertise to the DRC as well as adding breadth to the knowledge base of the DRC membership.

The position of independent member is not remunerated but independent members shall be entitled to claim reasonable expenses. Independent members shall also be able to claim an annual representation allowance.

Criteria for DRC Chair

The DRC Chair shall be an independent member chosen on the basis of his or her suitability and expertise for the position ahead of any other consideration. A prospective DRC Chair must therefore be of good repute, possess appropriate academic and vocational qualifications together with relevant work experience and expertise. In addition, the DRC Chair shall be fluent in English, with – in particular – the capability to understand complex documents and the ability to preside meetings in English.

The DRC Chair shall be required to demonstrate a proven track record of leadership in his or her professional field together with relevant management experience.
